

Open Meeting Law Policy

Open Meetings Policy In accordance with New York State's Open Meetings Law,¹ as well as Education Law 260-a, the Easton Library opens their Board of Trustee meetings to the general public. Closed, or executive, sessions may be called as a portion of the open meeting and appropriate business may be transacted. The minutes of the open meeting are available on the Library's website and are also available in person upon request. The minutes of the open meeting consist of a record or summary of all motions, proposals, resolutions and any matter formally voted upon. A minimum of four Board of Trustee Meetings must be held each year. Easton Library's website is <http://easton.sals.edu>. (The minutes may be accessed under Governance, at the bottom of the page.)
